INTERESTS & HOBBIES

I love playing action games and watching action movies and Tv shows. I listen to Edm music and spend most of my free time browsing about tech. I am an excellent chef or so I'm told by others and I love to try odd recipies for my friends and family to try out. I am a Black Belt in Karate and I work out sometimes. I am also an animal lover and an active member of PETA. I dream of touring the whole world after I retire.

I believe that life is short and we should make the most of it while it lasts. That's why I follow my love and passion for coding. I enjoy all moments of life, not just the good times. We should get used to the high and low points in life. I am hardworking, reliable and love to try new things and tackle new problems. I have one life. I want to make the most of it.
